

STYLE

Bundle up without the bulk with these 4 winter outfit ideas

Jan. 31, 2017 at 10:07 AM
Danielle Moskowitz
TODAY

From the Web

Brrr! It's cold outside, and we all know how difficult it is to stay warm and still look fashionable at the same time.

Luckily Brittney Levine, host of Marie Claire's "The Fix," is here to show us the must-have clothes to make you feel warmer instantly — without the added bulk.

1. Staying warm while working out

Leaving your cozy bed is hard enough in the winter, let alone leaving the house to work out in the cold! But you don't have to get weighed down in heavy sweats and jackets. Try some of these items that will keep you both warm and streamlined.

2. Staying warm in a cold office

It's never a good workday when you're freezing at your desk. Layer your short-sleeve dresses with a turtleneck to add a cute, wintry take on spring dresses without overdoing it with sweaters and cardigans.

3. Staying warm during a casual yet trendy outing

It seems impossible to look stylish in the winter while staying warm at the same time, but the wardrobe options below allow you to have both without all the unnecessary layers.

4. Staying warm while lounging in style

Whether it's cleaning the house or binge-watching the latest Netflix series, staying at home doesn't mean you have to look sloppy! Now you can lounge around the house in warmth — and leave the oversized sweatshirts in your drawers.

TODAY

Charcoal Leggings, $14, Zulily

Boxercraft Love'em Longer Legging sold by Zulily